To whom it may concern,

Mr. David Fraser attended the American Academy of Personal Training to obtain the state license personal training certificate of completion that is nationally accredited to the council of occupational education.

It's a 300 hour program broken up into two components 150 hours his lecture and the other 150 hours is practical. While David was in school he was always in a good mood, very outgoing, came to class every day, proactive, and he was first in his class with the highest grade point average. His ultimate goal and dream is to help others and become a professional personal trainer.

Thank you,

HARRY HANSON
